THE SCIENCE OF LIVING.

George F. Butler Tells How Ent and How to Assimilate. Dr. George F. Butler, medical super-intendent of the Alma Springs Sanitarium, Alma, Mich., in the October number of "How to Live," gives some interesting as well as sensible rules for acquiring and keeping health. He says: "Without we cut and drink, we die! The provocative to do both rests with the appetite, which, in process of time, becomes a very uncertain guide: for the palate will often induce a desire and wilks for the which is a desire and relish for that which is most mischievous and indigestible. The most mischievous and indigestible. The old saying of 'eat what you like' is now shunned by everybody of 20 years' experience. Still, without appetite, it is a very difficult affair to subsist—for the pleasure depends chiefly upon the relish. The relish may become, as has been stated, a vitlated one, but it is quite possible to make the stomach, by a little for parance and practice. by a little forbearance and practice, as enamored of what is wholesome and nutritious as of that which is hurt-ful, and not concoctible."

Again he says: "The delicate should "Be careful of your digestion" is the "Be careful of your digestion" is the keynote of the doctor's argument. He says: "Health in man, as in other animals, depends upon the proper performance of all the functions. These functions may be shortly said to be three: (1) tissue change; (2) removal of waste; (3) supply of new material. For the activity of man, like the heat of the fire by which he cooks his food, is maintained by combustion; and just as the fire may be prevented from as the fire may be prevented from burning brightly by improper disposi-tion of the fuel, or imperfect supply of air, and as it will certainly go out if fresh fuel is not supplied, and may choked by its own ashes, so man's activity may be lessened by imperfect tissue change, and may be put an end to, by an insufficient supply of new material and imperfect removal of waste products.

"We should see to it that free elimination is maintained, for the ashes must be kept out of the system in order to have good health. The skin, kidney and bowels must do their elimi-native work properly. If the bowels occasionally become torpid, try to reg-ulate them with exercise and proper ulate them with exercise and proper food, such as fruits, green vegetables, salads, cereals, corn, whole wheat or graham bread, fish, poultry, light soups, etc. Plenty of water is also valuable, and a glass full of cold or hot water the first thing upon rising in the morning will aid much in ovecoming constipation. Regular habit, cold baths and massage are very efficacious. In case the constipation does caclous. In case the constipation does not yield to these bygienic measures, some simple, harmless laxative may be required, such as California Syrup of Figs—a non-irritating preparation of senna in fig syrup—Laxative min-eral waters are beneficial in some cases, but not to be employed contin-

"Above all be an optimist, keep the heart young. Cultivate kindness, cheerfulness and love, and do not forget that 'we shall pass through this world but once. Any good thing, there-fore, that we do, or any kindness that we show to any human being, let us do it now. Let us not defer it or neg-lect it, for we shall not pass this way again."

Defends Chinese Rotten-Egg Food A German epicure comes to the res cue of the Chinese in regard to their alleged habit of eating rotten eggs. The eggs, he says, are simply pre-served in lime until they get a consistency like hard butter, and they taste somewhat like lobster. He declares them one of the choicest delicacles he has ever eaten. He thinks there are no better cooks in the world than the Chinese. When he went to live among them his friends predicted that he would starve, but he had a good time and gained weight-more chan he wanted to.

The residence of H. M. Kunkle at Ashtabula Harbor was destroyed by fire. The loss is from $12,000 to $15,000.

The Baltimore flour mill at Baltimore burned to the ground. Loss on the mill and contents is about $15,000, partly in-

Mrs. Mary Kruprezia and her 10-month old baby were probably fatally fnjured in a fire in their home at Cleveland. A gasoline stove exploded. The directors of the Cleveland Electric Railway Company voluntarily raised the wages of more than 2,000 motormen and conductors one cent an hour. Coroner Sullivan, in the West Salem baby-farming case, held Mrs. Elnora Morehouse as one of the parties to a conspiracy resulting in the death of a babe.

Albert Blery, aged 60, committed suicide by hanging in the barn at his home in Be-loit. Despondency over financial affairs is thought to have been the cause.

Joshua Bailey and Warren Kendall, oil operators of Wapakoneta, were fatally in-jured in a premature explosing of nitroglycerin while preparing to shoot a well at asey, Ills.

Mrs. Jerry Sandles and Mrs. Ida Lucas were badly burned at Bellfontaine, by the boiling over of a can containing a dilution of gasoline. Mrs. Lucas is danger A black bear, a deer, five gray wolves two Angora goets and a number of small wild animals have been received by the Springfield zoo from the practically defunct Columbus zoo.

Fire starting in Arthur Euse's fruit store gutted the Smith block at Kent. Anderson's shoe shop and Gauger's wall paper store were damaged. Euse lost $500 in cash. The total loss is $2,000. The postoffice at Woodstock was robbed and $118 in stamps and $100 in money were taken. The robbers made their escape. The government has offered a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of the robbers George B. Dolby, a Hocking Valley fireman of Columbus, was struck on the head near Sugar Ridge by a switch guard and seriously injured. The scalp was torn from over the left eye and his face was bentied.

A farewell banquet will be tendered to Governor Herrick at one of the hotels in Columbus on the evening of January 3, by all the officials and deputies in the The governor will be the only iouse. guest of honor.

Martin Conley of Lorain, an employe of the Lorain street railway, was killed by a car on that line. Conley was lying, apparently unconscious, in the middle of the track, when he was hit by a car and ground to pieces. The motormon had just rounded a curve and did not see him.

Safeblowers attacked a safe at Goulden's fish market at Toledo, and wrecked it The safe was unlocked and a sign pasted on the door revealing the fact. The rob-bers after opening the safe and finding it empty, evidently closed it and put in a charge of dynamite, completely wrecking

Seven well-armed men held up the three watchmen and a conductor at the traction company's street ear barns in Toledo and looted the place. They made two unsuccessful attempts to crack the safe. The eash drawer was demolished and nearly $1,000 in money was taken. As the robbers left the barns they exchanged shots

In recognition of his bravery, L. B. Holdren, operator for the Pennsylvania Company at South Charleston, was presented with a handsome gold watch by the officials. Holdren succeeded in extinguishing the flames on the top of a box car which was filled with dynamite. There was enough powder in the two cars to have blown up the town.

The "black hand" is feared in Girard, and according to the police, a Mafia lodge is in existence there and holds regular meetings. As the result of this, a large number of Italians, who have been employed at the furnaces and on the railroads, have left the village. It is claimed that the Mafia has been levying tribute on many of the Italians in Girard.

The authorities at Continental are look ing for a colored chimney sweep, who is accused of drugging, assaulting and rob-bing James Hicks of Dupont. Hicks was seen to fall into the ditch beside the railway and was pulled out by some boys just in time to save him from drowning. He said the colored man struck him, forced some liquid down his throat, and then Governor Herrick granted pardons to Martha McFillen, serving a life sentence for manslaughter from Eric county, and Michael Morgan, sent in from Cuyahoga county for fourteen years for criminal as-sault. In the former case the Governor, in his statement, says that Martha was the victim of her victim in that he lured her from home when she was 17 years of age and installed her in a room on the promise of marriage. He refused to keep his prom-ise and she killed him. Morgan was convicted of having mistreated a married woman. There was doubt of his guilt.

Lucille, the 3-year-old daughter of Ross Straver of Lima, died of hydrophobia. She vas bitten by a dog four weeks ago. Rodney White, aged 16, fell under an O. and L. K. passenger train at Buckeye, and both legs were cut off. He will probably die. Thomas Deal, 32; Jim Deal, 20, brothers of Portsmouth, were sentenced to five years' imprisonment for burglary. Deal, father of the two men, was killed by a burglar's trap gun, the mother is dying in an Athens hospital, and her only daughter was arrested recently at West Union in men's attire, held as a suspect.

Every one knows that nerves are deficate things, easily disturbed and difficult to keep in order. Mr. Underfoot, loyal husband that he was, had learned this lesson.

"Yes, the doctor said Jenny ought to have a change of air, and she's gone to a kind of rest-cure place for a while," said Mr. Underfoot to one of his old friends, while his gaze was carefully fixed on the distant land-

"Tired out?' inquired the friend. "No." said Mr. Underfoot, slowly, "she wasn't tired out, for she hadn't done anything to tire her. But she was always kind of high-strung, and toward the last of it she got real nervous. One day I just happened to inquire what time dinner was to befor it had varied about two hours one way or another-and she was making molasses gingerbread, and my asking that question upset her nerves so that she poured the batter right over me before I could move off. So next day she went to the rest-cure"

BOY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA.

Mouth and Eyes Covered with Crusts -Hands Pinned Down-Miraculous Cure by Cuticura

"When my little boy was six months old, he had eczema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We then went to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put a finger into. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes. Hands, arms, chest and back, in short the whole body, was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid in his bed, we had to pin his hands down; otherwise he would scratch his face, and make an open sore. I think his face must have itched most fearfully.

"We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with the child to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. But, Lord be blessed, matters came differentiy, and we soon saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticuen, We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within ten weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before. F. Hohrath, President of the C. L. Hohrath Company, Manufacturers of Silk Ribbons, 4 to 20 Rink Alley, South Bethlehem, Pa., June 5, 1905."

Fish for Candles.

A remarkable fish is said to exist in the coast rivers of Alaska, About eight inches long, it is transparent, and the fattest of all the finny tribe. Its flesh has not the oily rancid taste of other fish, but is like fresh lard. When dried the Indians often use these fish in a novel way. They are burned in place of candles and give a clear, brilliant light, not liable to be blown out by the wind. Each fish burns for about fifteen minutes.
